Friends of Waverley - Safeguarding Waverley through regular giving

Waverley - worth safeguarding

Waverley is unique. She is the last seagoing paddle steamer in the world: the sole survivor of a maritime tradition that began more than two centuries ago.

As a fully operational steamship Waverley is an iconic visitor to many areas of Britain bringing a measurable economic benefit to the many towns and villages she visits. She is a living reminder of our proud industrial and social history.

For well over 40 years Waverley has operated in preservation on a 'not-for-profit' basis giving millions the opportunity to travel on a seagoing paddle steamer. She offers passengers and viewers from the shore a unique experience. On board passengers admire the mighty steam engine, observe the paddles turning, hear their rhythmic beat, sense the hot oil and steam, and enjoy the stunning coastline.

Waverley Steam Navigation Co. Ltd. is the charity registered in Scotland which proudly owns Paddle Steamer Waverley. The charity is established to: "preserve, exhibit and operate Paddle Steamer Waverley for public benefit". We seek your support in achieving these objectives.
